DEDICATION

Veva and Clara Chapman

Through the many years of their faithful service to the students of North Andover High School, the Misses Veva and Clara Chapman have been ever ready to give the full measure of their understanding and guidance.

We, the Class of 1957, are happy to dedicate our yearbook to them as a symbol of our appreciation.

FRANCIS J. O'BRIEN

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

(Deceased June 19, 1957)

We are happy to be able to include in our year-book this year the pictures of our superintendent and school committee members, who contribute so much of their time and effort to the task of insuring the successful functioning of the public school system of North Andover.

ALVAH G. HAYES - HEADMASTER

Class of 1957:

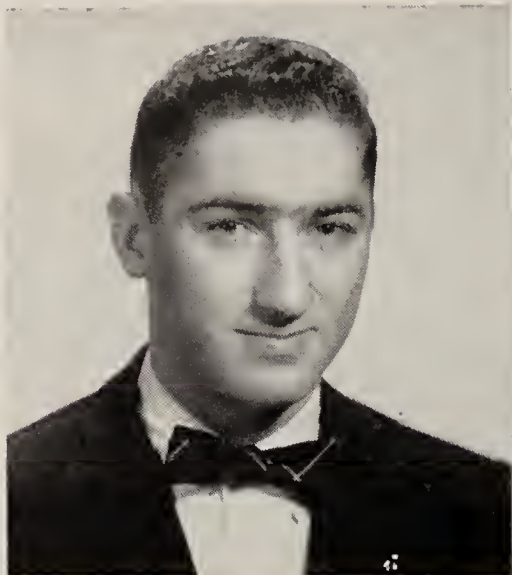

A famous golfer, when questioned as to which he considered his most important shot, replied, "My next one." He was recognizing a fact which we altogether too frequently forget. The past is gone and the future is the important consideration today. How often we worry about incidents and events of yesterday or last week or last month, about which we can do nothing now. Unless something can be done to improve a situation, these incidents should be given no further attention. Rather should our time be devoted to planning for tomorrow, next week, or next month. There are always important considerations for the future. And how quickly time passes by! As you read these words, what was the present has become the past, and the future soon emerges as the present. How often we all, with plenty of time at our disposal, have postponed doing today that which we know should be done by some definite date, only to find that when that future date arrives, as the present, we have so many other seemingly more urgent matters to consider that the task never is performed. What I am attempting to do, in these few words, is to throw out to you a challenge to value each hour of your time, and to use it in improving your own knowledge and understanding in such a manner that you will never have occasion, at some future date, to look back on the past with a feeling of regret that things might have been different, had you been prepared to accept your opportunities.

We bid farewell
To dear North Andover High School;
Our hearts will cherish all our memories,
Our deepest thanks we give to all our teachers;
Unselfishly they sacrificed their time,
To ready us for life's great, weary climb.

Now we must part;
Our high school days are over.
We'll ne'er return to these great hallowed halls.
Tears fill our eyes; the world stands bright before us.
Faithful we'll be to dear North Andover High.
Faithful we'll be to dear North Andover High.

This year the name of our yearbook was officially changed from The Gobler to The Knight in order to be in keeping with the new symbol of our school.

Class

FRESHMAN YEAR

As we, the Class of 1957, look back over our four years of high school, we recall the eventful day of September 5, 1953, when we first entered the doors of Stevens Hall.

After a brief talk by Mr. Hayes, we timidly proceeded to our first class. As "little" freshmen we had our first stab at politics — election of class officers. We chose as our first class president Bob Harris. The office of vice-president was filled by Roberta Kay, and as secretary-treasurer we elected Rhoda Broderick.

Our class was increased by three pupils: Leland Berg, Bob Chesel, and Dolores Belluardo, all of whom were valuable additions.

Our first social event of the year was the Freshman-Senior Dance on October 30. The dance acquainted us with our superiors in the senior class.

The annual Brooks Scholarships were awarded to Richard Ashworth and Dale Midgely as a result of their superior achievements in the competitive examination.

As freshmen we enjoyed many assemblies, one of which dealt with fire prevention and showed us the common, careless mistakes that cause fires.

As June approached, everyone was busily packing equipment to be transferred to the new North Andover High School. We were grateful to have been able to spend a year at the old Johnson High School. Thus, as the last freshman class, we sadly bade farewell to "good old Johnson!"

SOPHOMORE YEAR

We entered our sophomore year as "much older and wiser" students. We were very fortunate to have the pleasure of moving into the beautiful North Andover High School with its new educational and recreational facilities.

Ordinarily we would have looked with condescending amusement at the confused freshmen, but since the surroundings were new to all of us, everyone was just as confused as the Frosh.

As sophomores we re-elected Bob Harris to the presidency, Judy Tetler as vice-president, and Sue Lodge as secretary-treasurer.

There were seven new additions to our class — Gloria Berube, Kathleen Greenler, Brenda Spofford, and Herbert Whittemore came to us from Boxford. Mike Cahill, Carol Uhle, Lennie Annaloro hailed from Lawrence High.

In the annual school play "The Goose Hangs High," three members of our class added to the success of the event. They were Louise Mooradkanian, Bob Harris, and Russ Aaronian.

During our sophomore year we had many interesting and educational assemblies. On March 8, 1955, Mr. Whitmore, representing General Electric, presented the "House of Magic." Included in the program were explanations of the principles of jet propulsion and of various kinds of fluorescent lighting. Another interesting program was given on April 11 by a representative of the Museum of Science in Boston. He presented an informal lecture on animals commonly found in New England.

We were very proud of the five girls who were inducted into the National Honor Society this year. They achieved this goal because of maintaining a general average of 90 or over in their studies throughout their high school careers. The new members were Laura Curtis, Judy Knightly, Alice Miller, Louise Mooradkanian, and Judy Tetler.

And so closed the sophomore year and the first half of our high school career.

JUNIOR YEAR

At the close of our annual summer vacation, we left our fun behind and returned to N. A. H. S. as upperclassmen. We were pleased to welcome Jean Cahoon, Dot Stansel, and Frank McCarthy as additions to our class.

History

Because of their wonderful work for our class, we re-elected Bob Harris as our president, Judy Tetler as our vice-president, and Susan Lodge as secretary-treasurer.

In October we ordered our class rings and eagerly awaited their arrival in February. How proudly we flashed them around as signs of seniority!

Kay Verda, another member of our class, was inducted into the National Honor Society.

On September 30 we had an interesting assembly at which James Titus, a singer of spirituals and a story-teller, entertained our school with several stirring selections, many in the Negro dialect of the South.

Late in February a junior class meeting was held, at which time it was decided that we would hold a bakery sale as a means of raising money for the class treasury. A large sum was added to the treasury as a result of the sale.

In March of that year we elected three members to the Prom Committee besides our class officers. Those representing our class on this committee were George Haigh, Judy Knightly, and Eileen DeBurro.

In the annual school play "Man of Seventeen," two junior class members were featured. Dot Stansel and Carolyn Smith represented us well.

We chose Loring as our class photographer.

On June 7th the most important social event of the year was held, the Junior-Senior Prom. Many of our classmates attended and helped to make it a great success.

And so closed our junior year, which left us with a year remaining in our high school career.

SENIOR YEAR

As seniors we reached the pinnacle of our high school careers. This year we elected as our president John Markey, who proved to be a very successful leader. Mike Cahill served as vice-president, and Susan Lodge as secretary-treasurer.

This year we welcomed Mr. Regan, Mr. Christison, and Mrs. Collins to our faculty.

In December of 1956, Miss Clara Chapman retired after thirty-three years of teaching. She will always be remembered for her patience and understanding in her physics and chemistry classes. At the Christmas assembly our class president, John Markey, presented Miss Chapman with a gift as a token of appreciation for all that she had done for us.

During February a class meeting was held, at which time we decided to whom the yearbook would be dedicated. The Misses Clara and Veva Chapman were chosen for this honor by our class.

We also decided that the class would wear caps and gowns at graduation. At another meeting we selected red and white as our class colors. Mr. Hayes announced the class honors. Laura Curtis was chosen as valedictorian, Louise Mooradkanian as salutatorian, and Dot Stansel as class essayist. We chose John Gallant as our class orator and Judy Tetler and Billy Blackstock as class marshals.

John Markey was elected as our Good Government Day Representative and Judy Knightly as the recipient of the D. A. R. Good Citizenship Award.

April 5 and 6 the annual school play was presented. The members of our class who helped to make the play a success were Susan Lodge and Dot Stansel, who played their parts very well.

We will never forget the four glorious years of our high school career at North Andover. As we sadly leave our high school days behind, we will always remember our class motto: "With the ropes of the past we will ring the bells of the future."

We, the graduating class of 1957, still possessing our physical and mental attributes which were so generously given us at birth, do hereby give, will, bequeath and bestow the following gifts and goods upon the class of '58.

To the members of the faculty we leave our sincere appreciation for their guidance and advice through our four years of school.

BOB HARRIS steps off the throne as king of the gridiron and passes his crown on to ANDY ZIGELIS. Make sure you wear your helmet instead of the crown in the games and do as well a job as BOB did.

GERI THOMSON leaves her diversified wardrobe to all the girls in the junior class. Don't fight, girls, there's enough for everyone.

BILL TAYLOR leaves his motorcycle to ROBERT MURPHY. Now you can discard the bicycle, BOB.

ANN WILD inherits GLORIA BERUBE'S tremendous school spirit.

To RACHEL MITCHELL goes PAULA WEYMOUTH'S many periods spent in the kitchen. Did you really work hard, PAULA?

BOB BUCHANAN leaves his position as football manager to any junior boy who wishes to undertake it. Keep the bench warm, kids.

To LORRAINE CANDIANO and CHRIS CARNEY goes MARYANN KURGAN'S beautiful singing voice. You'll just have to join the chorus, girls.

SONNY STANWOOD bequests his natural ability on the baseball diamond plus his craving for peanut butter sandwiches to GIL CARDOZA. Think you can stomach them, GIL?

TINA and EMIY PAPPALARDO inherit JANICE DUNN'S willingness to lend a helping hand to anyone. A friend in need is a friend indeed!

BILL BLACKSTOCK bestows his overwhelming personality and position as class wit to JOHN MINIHAN, who will find no difficulty in exercising the fine art of class jester.

To NANCY CYR goes JOSEPHINE BONANNO'S astonishing fleetness on the piano keys, plus her ability to type 80 w.p.m.

JUDY TETLER transfers her ability at arguments in math class to JOE FLYNN and BRUCE ELLIOTT. Think you can outargue her, boys?

On BARBARA WEINGART is bestowed JOYCE MYHAVER'S tremendous ability on the basketball court. With all your baskets and JOYCE'S defensive work, you're sure to be a star.

BRUCE RUSSELL gladly relinquishes his constant dieting to RICHARD MAGOON. Do you think you can gain as much weight as BRUCE did?

STELLA D'AGATA inherits petite KATHY SZTUCINSKI'S charm. Use it the best way you know how, STELLA.

MARY COTTER'S quiet but mischievous ways are bestowed upon ALICE SARGENT.

MIKE CAHILL will show JAY BURKE how to bring forth a joke in a quiet, easy-going manner. MIKE had to go to school to learn, but he'll teach you out of the kindness of his heart.

JANET DRUMMEY will be happy to inherit JUDY KNIGHTLY'S intelligence and position as head-cheerleader.

BOB CHESEL sadly relinquishes his expert ability to imitate Elvis Presley to JIM MEYERS and PHILIP ROCHE. You two, along with BOB, will really give Elvis competition.

KATHLEEN GREENLER transfers her bob sled and team to ELAINE ROCHE and LEONARD DESPRES. Now you'll be on time for school during the winter months.

MARIANNE HALLSWORTH leaves her quiet but friendly ways to CONSTANCE BLAKE and PAT GAMANS, the latter of whom will not suffer from the quiet.

HENRY HIMBER will gladly show JOHN WALKER how to spear fish as soon as he has mastered the javelin. You may have a long wait, JOHN.

CAROL ACKROYD hands down her lady-like ways to IRENE MURRAY. They will not suffer in the transition.

To MICHAEL GREENLER goes DICK SCHUBERT'S fabulous set of electric trains. Now you can take the train to school, MIKE.

RUTH ANN SMITH bestows her height (?) plus her witty remarks upon CHARLOTTE CARON.

To JOHN SURETTE and BOB HOOGERZEIL goes BILL CURREN'S real cool collection of Rock and Roll. Do you dig this stuff, boys?

PEGGY FORGETTA and CAROL McLAUGHLIN are presented with CYNTHIA ROBERTS' love for dancing. Central Catholic dances will really hum now.

To GENE SZTUCINSKI go JOAN DOIRON'S amazing drawing ability and all her dry wit — which really kept Homeroom 39 in good humor.

TED McALOON will be glad to receive JIM DORAN'S bookkeeping ability, although we're sure he doesn't need it.

RUSS AARONIAN leaves his expert craftsmanship at one-arm driving to ROBIN MONROE. I'd say use two arms, ROBIN, but on second thought you'll need one with which to drive.

MAUREEN O'KEEFE wills her winning smile and cheering ability to JO ELLEN ROBERTSON. You're sure to be the happiest cheerleader on the floor, JO ELLEN.

CHUCK MATTRAW inherits JIM ORD'S and JOE MEDICI'S snazzy "hot rods." Now you can open up a used car lot, CHUCK.

BILL NICORA will not leave SUSAN but will bestow his knowledge of how to hold a steady to BARRETT ROBINSON. If any junior girl feels she will profit by this information, see BILL.

RHODA BRODERICK leaves her rank as Nurse's Aid in Bon Secours Hospital to JEAN AZIZ. You're sure to be an R.N. now, JEAN.

FRANK McCARTHY "sadly" relinquishes his position of Class Wolf to SONNY CHAMBERLAIN and CARL SCHUBERT. Which one of you will profit?

SUSAN LODGE leaves her latest book entitled "How to Hold a Man" to LYNNE CHRISTIANSEN. Watch out, TOBY.

To LARRY COLBY goes CAROLYN FRETWELL'S big Buick. You'll ride in style, now, LARRY, although you won't get the mileage you did with your crutches.

CLAIRE OSKAR will gladly accept LOUISE MOORADKANIAN'S high position in the Honor Society. Put it to good use, CLAIRE.

EDWARD HUNT bestows his knowledge of photography plus his equipment to GEORGE EMERY and FRANK LAVALLO. Someday you'll be first rate photographers, lads.

JOHN GALLANT sadly bestows upon DICK MAY his knowledge of Sherlock Holmes. He wanted to hit the jackpot on the "Sixty-Four Thousand Dollar Question," but the quiz master was too smart for him.

NEIL McALOON leaves dear North Andover without regrets or a broken heart and is more than happy he made it. We hope that JACKSON LONG and KIBBY SHEA follow in the same fashion.

HERB WHITTEMORE sadly relinquishes all his A's in physics to BOB RICHARDSON and PHILIP HENRY. You're on your way to the Honor Society, boys.

DOUG MORSE bequeaths his latest volume, "The Women in My Life," to VIC BATAGLIOLI. Think you can handle it, VIC?

BILL BURRIS wills his knowledge gained working at the filling station to FRANK HILTON and RICKY TROMBLY.

To PAULA COATES goes MARILYN NUSSBAUM'S "Gift of Gab." I don't think you really need it, PAULA.

DAVE WARWICK wills his knack of making friends easily to HOLLIS CURTIS, who is no slouch in this department already.

PAULINE NADEAU and DOT PARADIS bequeath their terrific personalities and ability to drive any teacher crazy within thirty seconds to CAROLE PARKER. Watch out for those detentions, CAROLE.

JAMES VALLIERE inherits JEAN CAHOON'S many free periods spent in the math class. Now you won't have any tests to study for, JIM.

To BOB PYBUS and SAM PERRUCCIO go DOUG STEVENSON'S quiet, amiable ways. Don't talk too much, boys.

Bestowed upon BEVERLY KENNEDY are NANCY WHITTAKER'S sparkling eyes and nice ways. You'll know what to do with them, BEV.

To KIMBALL HARRIS and JOHN HOLT, ALLAN VIRR leaves his dilapidated school books. Better get out the scotch-tape, boys.

JOAN WILSON and KATHLEEN VERDA, girls of few words, leave to DAVID LAMBERT and STEPHEN COHEN their well-observed rule "Silence is Golden." Rules were made to be broken, kids.

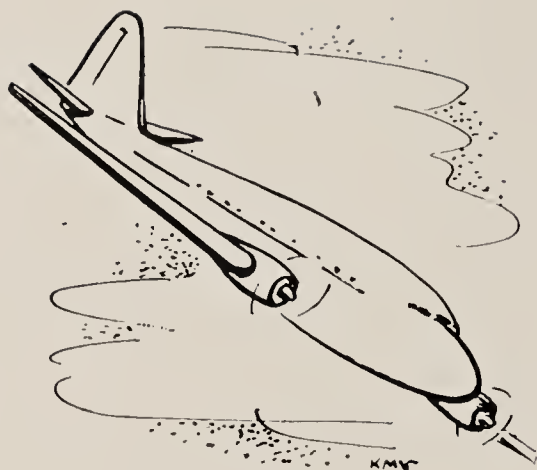

EILEEN DEBURRO passes on her position as head-cheerleader and tremendous school spirit to ANN MARIE BARRETT. You're sure to boost the team's morale now, ANN MARIE.

And last but not least, to dear North Andover we wish to leave our thanks for our pleasant and sometimes rather unpleasant memories.

We remain,

Eileen and Bob

Class

On December 31, 1970, in North Andover, we boarded a Speedy Airlines plane for New York City where we would transfer to a jet which would take us to Pasadena, California, for the Tournament of Roses parade.

After hostesses Rhoda Broderick and Audrey Currier welcomed us aboard the beautiful, modern constellation which was one of the many airlines owned by Doug Morse, we spied Joan Doiron sitting with a distinguished looking gentleman. She introduced him as her husband and president of the Winters Secretarial School which they had started. Joan said that she was his secretary and their two oldest children, aged six and seven, were already speedy typists. Across the aisle Kay Verda, appearing quite prosperous in a mink coat, sat down and drew some important looking papers out of a brief case. She paused in her work long enough to say that she was vice-president of an airplane manufacturing concern and was on her way to a conference in New York.

After settling the other passengers, Rhoda and Audrey sat down for a little chat. They told us that Dave Warwick was piloting our plane and Geri Thomson, one of the first woman commercial aviators, was co-pilot. Of course we wanted to go see them, but Rhoda said that we were almost in New York and they would be busy making the landing.

When we landed we found there was a layover of an hour and a half. During this time we wandered through the airport. At the desk we spied Bill Curren, head ticket agent, who told us that Allan Virr was a baggage checker in the same airport. Bill said that since he was due to get off duty in a few minutes, he would like to take us to dinner at the airport restaurant.

When we were inside the restaurant he said there were some people he was sure we would like to meet. Mary Cotter hustled over to take our order and told us that Ruth Ann Smith worked there too, but that this was her day off. She also informed us that Lennie Annaloro was the manager and Bob Torla and Jim Ord were the chefs. After dinner we all agreed that their cooking was quite delicious. On the airport radio system we heard the disc-jockey announce that the top song of the week was "Why Don't You Croon Instead of Moon?" by Maryann Kurgan, accompanied by Janice Dunn and her orchestra.

We heard our flight announced and were soon speeding on our way to California. Carol Uhle, a buyer for Sak's Fifth Avenue, was on the jet, and we whiled away the time by reminiscing about N.A.H.S.

At the airport in Pasadena there were a reporter and a photographer waiting for some celebrities who were coming to the parade. After looking more closely we recognized the reporter as Louise Mooradkanian and the photographer as Eddie Hunt. We hurried over to see them. Louise told us that Doug Stevenson was the editor of her paper and Eilen DeBurro was his secretary. We would have talked longer, but we had to catch a cab to the hotel. Bob Buchanan was our driver and he told us that Joe Medici owned the taxi company and Jim McGuire was also a driver.

We were at the hotel before we knew it. The desk clerk, Gloria Berube, told us that Russ Aaronian was the manager of the hotel and Bill Burris was in charge of the bellhops and elevator men. In the lobby we happened to catch a glimpse of Carolyn Fretwell who had four children around her. After questioning her, we learned that her husband was the owner of acres of orange groves in California and they had come to see the parade. She also said she had just run into Cynthia Roberts and Dot Hodgdon who were clerks in a famous Hollywood store. It wasn't until about four a.m. that I got to my room to catch some shut-eye before going to the parade.

In the morning we went to the place where seats had been reserved for us by Warren Stanwood and Paula Weymouth who were narrating the parade on TV.

Prophecy

The mayor of Pasadena, Richard Schubert, led the parade. Following him were many beautiful floats. One of the loveliest depicted a typical classroom in one of Pasadena's public schools. Adele Bullock, teacher in the third grade, was surrounded by her pupils. The flower arrangements had been done by the famous florists Judy Thornton and Bob Chesel. Several movie stars were on a float sent by Hollywood. We spotted Joyce Donovan and Brenda Spofford almost immediately as we had seen them in "Rocket to the Moon." Another float came along stating, "It doesn't hurt to give blood." On it was a lovely nurse, whom we recognized as Donna Mulchahy, and a man donating blood.

As the parade continued on its route the youngsters were given a thrill by seeing the heroes of the West, "Curly" Himber, riding a white pinto, and none other than Carol Ackroyd, the modern day version of Annie Oakley. From up the road we heard the roaring of the "Night Fighters," a motorcyclist group led by "Wild Bill" Taylor. One could notice with pride the terrific job policewoman Clare Towler and policemen John Caron and "Buzzy" Graham did in holding the crowd in check. A precision women's drill team composed of the best girls in the country was now gaily strutting up the boulevard. Marching in such a fine team were Dot Paradis, Pauline Nadeau, Judy Tetler, Nancy Whittaker, Joyce Myhaver, and Kathy Sztucinski. Behind this great marching unit came the U.S. Navy Band led by Bruce Russell. Jockey "Lightning" Doran followed on a float representing the Racing Association of America.

After the parade the city officials of Pasadena, Rod Rogers and Ed Sheehan, introduced us to Kathy Greenler and Sue Lodge, the co-chairwomen of this wonderful parade.

Arriving at the football game between Merrimack College of good ole "Turkey Town" and U. of California, we learned that George Haigh and John Gallant were the respective coaches. The voice of announcer Frank McCarthy, blaring over the loud speaker told us that the head referee was Nick Nicora. During the first half we were greatly thrilled by the cleverness of the card section under the leadership of Laura Curtis. As the half ended, with Merrimack leading 6-0, we were impressed with the cheerleaders of Merrimack College who had been coached by Judy Knightly. Between the halves Bob Harris was awarded the Professional Football Player of the Year trophy. Before we knew it the game was over, with a final score of 12-6 in Merrimack's favor. It was the first time they had ever won in the Rose Bowl. Upon leaving the game we bumped into Dot Stansel, a professor of math at Merrimack.

By now dusk was settling on California, and we decided to visit the Sea Side Moonlight, an exclusive nightclub. The hat check girl, Shirley Detera, told us that it was owned by Mike Cahill. We summoned the head waiter, Neil McAloon, for a full course dinner. Looking around we saw Marilyn Nussbaum and Maureen O'Keefe, two talented actresses. Accompanying them were John Markey and Herb Whittemore, two famous play directors. We got up enough gumption to speak to them and asked the actresses such questions as who styled their dresses and hair. They said Donna Hamilton and Carol Kopec were their dress designers and Joan Wilson their hair stylist. As we were speaking of hair, the play directors recommended the famed lady barber, Jean Cahoon, for a good shave and a haircut.

The floor show came on and we were much amused by comedian "Tiger" Blackstock. The next act featured Dolores Belluardo, and for the grand finale Jo Bonnano, concert pianist, was the main attraction.

After meeting so many of our old friends and acquaintances we made our way home with happy memories.

Respectfully submitted,

Judy and Doug

CLASSES and ACTIVITIES

← Juniors

They include the following:

President	John Minihan
Vice-President	Andrew Zigelis
Secretary-Treasurer	Janet Drummey

The following members of the junior class served as home room representatives during the current year: James Valliere, Room 11; John Burke, Room 34; Lynne Christiansen, Room 37; and Richard Lange, Room 41.

The following junior class members were elected to serve on the Prom Committee along with the class officers: Ann Marie Barrett, Claire Oskar, and Victor Battaglioli.

Robert Hoogerzeil, a junior, won first place in the Annie L. Sargent Speaking Contest.

Lynne Christiansen, who entered our school as a member of the junior class this year, received our school's Annie L. Sargent Latin Prize and a gold pin from the Association for the Promotion of the Study of Latin for her high score in a nation-wide Latin test.

← Sophomores

President	Andrew Heinze
Vice-President	Wilfred Nadeau
Secretary-Treasurer	Michael Byron

Home room representatives from the sophomore class were: Martha Foster, Room 4; Douglas Mayer, Room 6; Catherine Cummings, Room 14; Margaret Virr, Room 26; and Joseph Walsh, Room 33.

Members of the sophomore class took active part in all extra-curricular activities of the school, as well as helping to maintain the high scholastic standing of the school.

← Freshmen

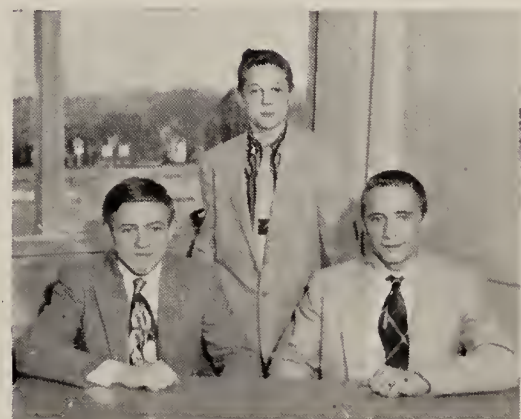

The following served as freshman class officers during the current year:

President	Joseph Trombly
Vice-President	David Bamford
Secretary-Treasurer	John Virr

Home room representatives were: Richard Smith, Room 8; Joanne Bettencourt, Room 18; Alan Foster, Room 19; John Kirk, Room 20; Margaret Mattraw, Room 28; and William Rock, Room 29.

We wish to congratulate Richard Arold and David Bamford who won this year's scholarships to Brooks School.

The freshmen class has wholeheartedly entered into the spirit and activities of our school and has contributed much to our school community.

On October 26 and 27 of 1956, four members of the editorial staff — Joan Doiron, Louise E. Mooradkanian, Nancy Whittaker and Alice Miller (former co-editor and since moved to New Hampshire) — attended the annual New England Scholastic Press Convention in Boston sponsored by Boston University's School of Public Relations and Communications. On this occasion the High-Lites of the previous school year was awarded a certificate for excellent achievement in its class, marking the third consecutive year in which our quarterly magazine has received an award at this convention.

On November 2, 1956, the High-Lites Staff sponsored a highly successful dance.

On March 30 a successful Hungarian Relief Dance was sponsored by our Honor Society in conjunction with the Honor Societies of Haverhill, Punchard and Methuen High Schools. The proceeds of this dance, $274.05, were sent to the International Rescue Committee for Hungarian relief.

In February, Mr. Hayes, Miss Cook, and four members, Louise E. Mooradkian, Laura Curtis, Priscilla Watts and George Haigh, attended and participated in an Honor Society induction at Haverhill High School.

May 14 the members of our society once more traveled to Haverhill to attend a rally of honor societies of this area. Games were played and a panel discussion on "The Teenager" was held. Refreshments concluded the enjoyable afternoon. Two of our girls, Charlotte Bullock and Terry Johnson, were members of the panel.

May 21 an Honor Society meeting was held at which time the council members for next year were elected. Congratulations to Priscilla Watts and Andrew Zigelis for being chosen for this high honor!

May 25 a bakery sale was held in Messina's Market. Approximately $25 augmented the Honor Society's treasury.

Throughout the year, Honor Society members have assisted in library work and in the tutoring of pupils.

The 1956-1957 school social calendar was drawn up by the Social Calendar Committee of the Student Council.

On October 18 the Student Council held a successful dance in our gym.

In January the Council sponsored a School Spirit Week. This included a School Spirit Poster Contest and a School Colors Day, when everyone wore red and black. The Council also purchased a huge red and black banner, bearing the figure of a scarlet knight, to be used during school rallies and games.

An information service for the benefit of visitors was established by the Council in the main lobby of the school.

During the past year, the band has played at the football games and at the two Tech Tournament basketball games in the Boston Garden. It played at the high school graduation exercises and marched in the Armistice Day parade, the Memorial Day parade, and a Christmas parade in Lawrence.

Our band was represented by Dorothy Stansel at the Massachusetts All-State Music Festival held in March at Northampton, and by Priscilla Watts at the New England Music Festival in Plainville, Connecticut.

On May 4, the entire band participated in the Northeastern Massachusetts Music Festival in Concord, Massachusetts; and on May 10, it held its annual spring concert in the school auditorium.

At the close of the school year the five senior band members, Bruce Russell, Adele Bullock, Janice Dunn, Dorothy Stansel, and Robert Torla, were presented with blazers in the school colors and bearing the school insignia of the Scarlet Knight.

Our first season of field hockey resulted in a record of one win, four losses, and two ties. Our captains, Joyce Myhaver and Carolyn Fretwell, headed a team that showed great promise, though young and inexperienced. We expect a stronger and more seasoned squad next year.

The team ended the season with a record of four wins and four losses. Dot Paradis and Etta Mae Nadeau were our long-ball hitters, slugging clutch homers and extra-base hits that helped lift the team to a .500 average for the season.

This year Judith Knightly and Eileen DeBurro served as head cheerleaders. Maureen O'Keefe, Pauline Nadeau, Joan Doiron, Janet Drummey, Claire Oskar, Jo Ellen Robertson, Ann Marie Barrett, and Jane DeVebre comprised the rest of the squad.

During the season the girls cheered at all the football and basketball games and held rallies before important contests.

September 22, the cheerleaders held a bakery sale in Phelan's Market. Some of the money was used to buy new megaphones, and the rest put in the cheerleaders' treasury.

September 25, the squad conducted a "Mr. Touchdown" contest in conjunction with Tenney and Punchard High Schools. The one hundred and twenty-five dollars collected at North Andover High was donated to the March of Dimes.

November 2, the girls participated in an exhibition at Tenney High School. The exhibition was followed by a dance.

The Scarlet Knights, coached by Howard Crozier and Assistant Coaches William Larochelle and Joseph Lynch, compiled an impressive record of six wins and three losses.

Captain Bob Harris led the team in its most successful season in recent years. The Knights were victorious over Woodbury, Burlington, Ipswich, Somerville Voke, Wilmington, and Maynard.

Congratulations to Andy Zigelis and Vic Battaglioli who have been chosen to captain next year's team!

Led by Robin Munroe, who emerged as high-scorer in Greater Lawrence with 451 points, the Scarlet Knights again won the Lowell Suburban League title, this year with a record of twenty wins and no losses. This outstanding record earned them their second bid to the Eastern Mass. Tech Tournament. After defeating Immaculate Conception of Revere and Msgr. Prevost by substantial scores, they lost the Class C championship to Case by three points. The team received a plaque for their fine effort.

The Knights also won the Little Three title by twice defeating both Methuen and Punchard. Congratulations to Coach Larochelle and the entire team for such a successful season!

The team enjoyed a highly successful season under the coaching of Head Coach William Larochelle and Assistant Coach Joseph Lynch.

Playing heads-up ball throughout the entire season, it wound up with a record of ten wins and six losses, which earned it third place in the Lowell Suburban League—one game shy of receiving a bid to the baseball tourney.

This year's track squad completed the season with three wins and five losses—most of the losses being close-fought games up to the final gun.

In the Little Three Meet, North Andover placed a close second, breaking three records—by Andy Zigelis in the shot put, Bill Blackstock in the high jump, and Gerry Steinke in the 440.

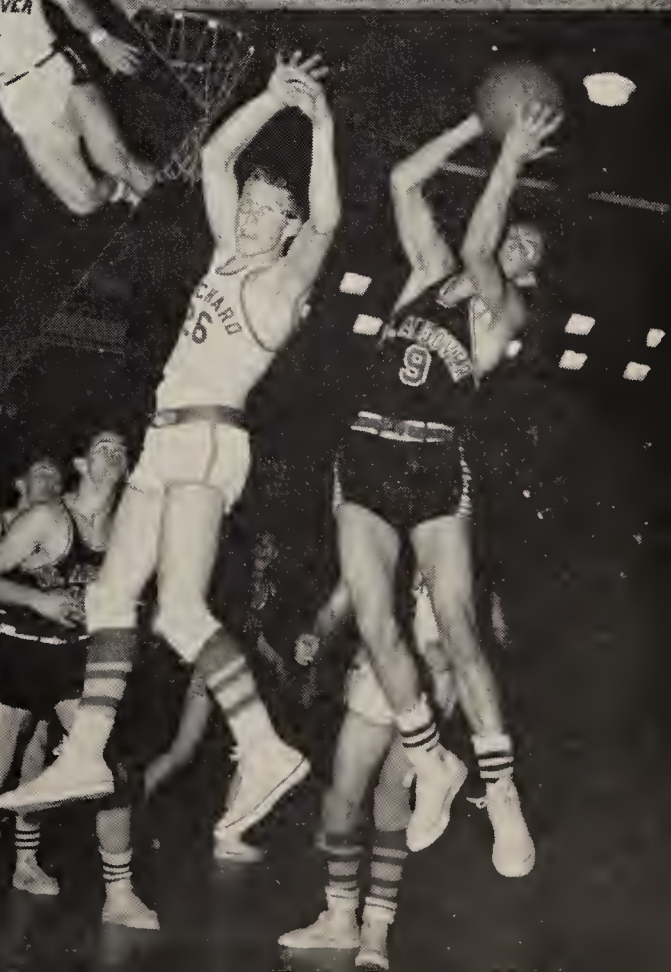

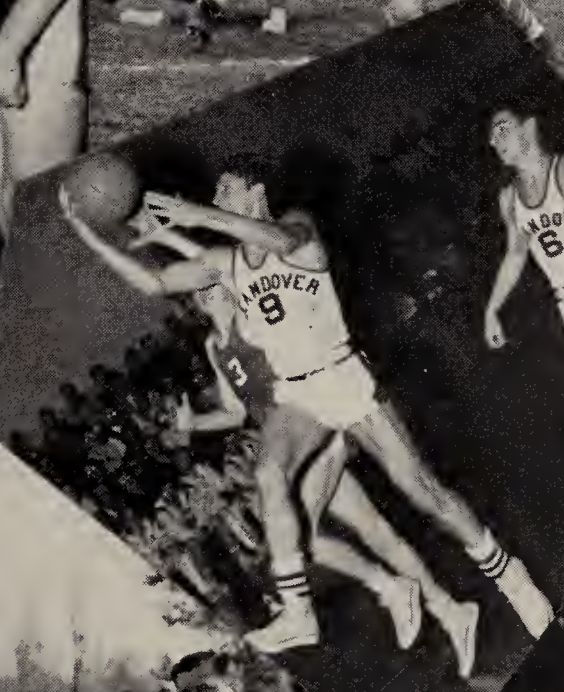

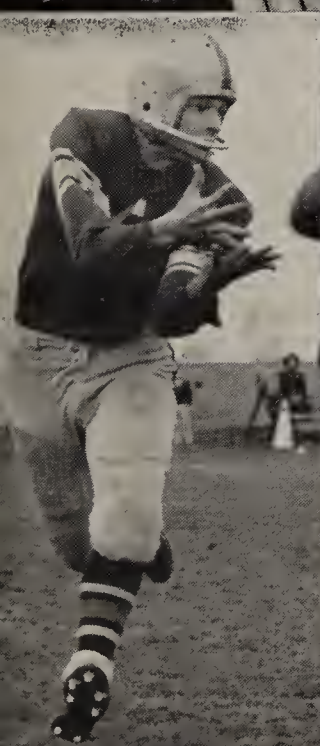

Bill Blackstock and Andy Zigelis were honored at the annual Salem High track banquet. Blackstock was chosen North Andover's most valuable senior trackman, and Zigelis was the Knights' highest scorer.

North Andover finished third in Division 2 of the Essex County loop. The Knights piled up 222 points as opposed to 163 against.
